REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

We congratulate the people of our town on their almost entire freedom during the past year from disease of an epidemic form.

One case of diphtheria, and nine cases of nuisance have come to our knowledge; all of which we have caused to be abated.

There has been some improvement in the sanitary condition of the Indian houses near the Ocean Bluff, and we hope all proper precautions will be taken to avoid danger from that cause in the future.

It is now incumbent upon the superintendent to make a statement of facts of the condition and progress of the common schools for the past year. There have been thirty and one-fifth weeks in all parts of the town. A comparison between the condition of the schools as a whole with that of last year reflects a lower standard of efficiency than we at first set for them. We hold the well being of the schools paramount to all personal interests and prejudices. The greater number of scholars in the several districts under the care of efficient teachers have made commendable progress while in others a spirit of discontent among the citizens has manifested itself. The committee received a petition signed by forty-one legal voters of school number three, for the dismissal of the grammar school teacher from any further services. After due notice to the teacher and to the petitioners a meeting of the committee to act upon the petition was held at the school room on Dec. 29th, the result of which, the majority of the committee after investigation, voted to continue the services of the teacher. We have no word of censure for any one, but believe such a contest detracts from the best interests of the community. There has been a variance among some of the parents in district number ten about their children going to school where they legally belong, the consequence of which the pupils have been conveyed to other districts at the parents' expense.

The committee thought it advisable to suspend the operation of this school and furnish transportation of the children but a petition signed by nearly all the voters and tax payers in the district was received to continue one in their house which was granted by the committee. The law of 1897 will apply to some of the schools having too few scholars for their profitable maintenance which is a question for the next school board to solve. The section touching this question provides that any public school failing to maintain an average attendance for any year of eight scholars is discontinued, unless the town shall vote at its annual meeting to instruct its committee to maintain the school.

According to the law, the Hutchins number two, the Iron Bridge, number nine, the Smith, number ten and the Beachwood, number eleven, have failed to maintain the average attendance and will be suspended unless otherwise instituted by the town. For the support of schools it is hoped the appropriation will be kept equally as large or larger than last year,$2300, in order to support thirty weeks in all parts of the town. From the common school fund are paid the teachers' wages and board, janitor's services, transportation of scholars, fuel, necessary apparatus and appliances for the use of schools.

The superintendent cannot be authorized by the school board to approve plans for new school houses, to fill vacancies, to recommend a change in location of school houses, to expel disobedient scholars, to dismiss teachers when services are unprofitable, to determine the number, beginning and length of terms. The duties of school officers may be familiar by a hasty view of these particular points.

The policy of the town for more than thirty-five years has been to allow a number of the scholars living on the Mountain road, to attend school in Biddeford, and the funds derived from this number have been expended in that city. There are twelve scholars living in this district, and eight attending school, a right they have by vote of the town; but in view of the small attendance in the Durell district it may be suspended by law at any time. If these scholars are required to be educated in our own town the school will be retained and the funds derived from that source appropriated for its support. The superintendent must provide the transportation of all pupils residing in the town to the nearest suitable school during the full terms, for which they are maintained, when such pupils reside at such distance from the school as to render such transportation necessary, but the law is silent as to what distance or when such conveyance is rendered needful.

Towns are now authorized, if they so vote, to unite for the purpose of electing a superintendent who shall devote his entire time to this work. This seems experimental for the town to adopt this course for its financial interests or for obtaining more efficient instructors. The local superintendent is in closer touch to the parents and pupils than the non-resident and he understands better the requirements of the town. The law is a long stride towards centralization, as the teacher must hold a State certificate which assigns the central fountains of our whole school system to Augusta.

Our High school, with Principal E. L. Haynes at its head, is doing its usual good work. That the work is better appreciated each succeeding year is established by the constant increase in the number of pupils. It affords instruction in advanced studies, rendering it capable for the scholar to fit for college in our own town. In proportion to the number of inhabitants it is one of the largest High schools in the State.

Fifty pupils are now in attendance, which is suggestive that our tax payers should not be lacking in interest in promoting its growth, nor niggardly in the expenditures for its support, as it carries to the youth of our town privileges of a higher character than the common school can furnish. These advantages afforded us are widely extended, for one half of the number of scholars reside in the outlying districts.

There are four young ladies in the Robinson school, under the care of an efficient teacher, pursuing the classical course, going on in the same methods and in the same books of their class, also one in each school respectively, Durell, Burnham, Beachwood and Cape giving their attention to the English studies of the High school. We clearly and most emphatically favor the scholars attendance in the High school whenever it is practicable. At the close of the next term there are indications that the graduating class will take a high rank. At the termination of the last year the graduating exercises took place in the Congregational church and a class of six received their diplomas, viz: Miss Agnes M. I. Gould, Miss Mabel O. Littlefield, Miss Cynthia B. Perkins, Miss Ruth A. Peabody, Miss Minnie E. Trafton, Miss Carrie L. Wells.

The course of study in the rural schools has been helpful to the teacher and the pupil. It was been followed with faithfulness to accomplish a certain amount of work within a specified time. A few of the parents have desired that their children be advanced to higher studies when it was apparent that a serious injury would be inflicted upon them by assigning a course of study beyond their grade. Such books to study should be given the child rank fits her to use.

At the beginning of the term in each year the scholars will hold a grade certificate whose rank in examination averages seventy-five per cent. to admit them to the next higher grade.

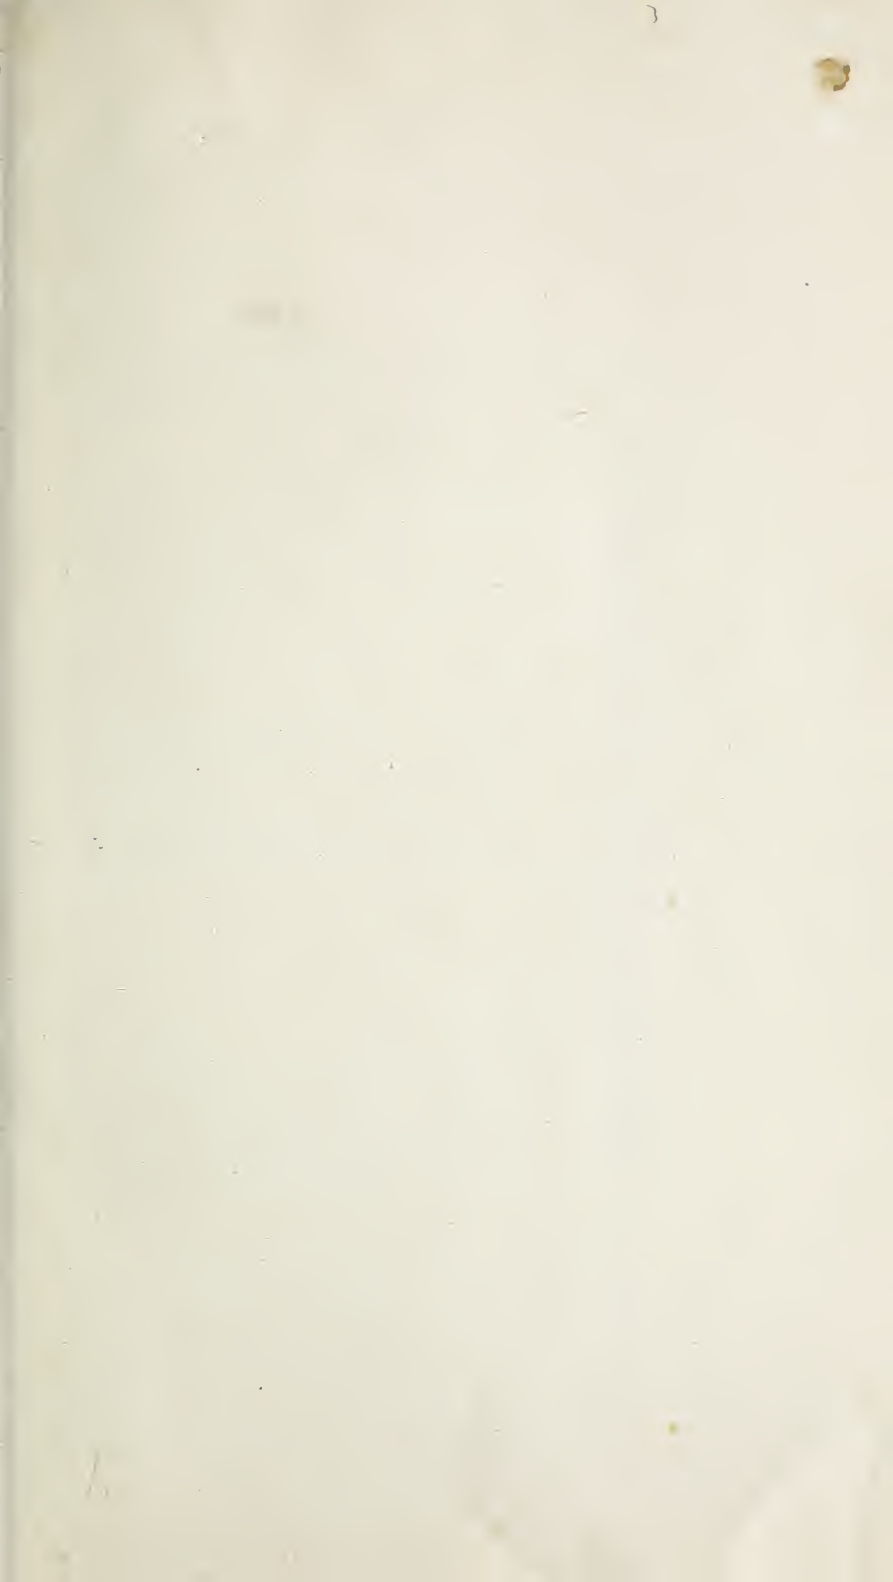

In this State it has been well established that the school year closes in June, consequently the committee employs all the teachers whose services are to continue through the year. The statutes require all between eight and fifteen to attend school fifteen weeks in the year and nearly all have met the requirements.

In conclusion we recommend the appropriation of one thousand dollars to be expended for the support of the High school, twenty-five hundred dollars for common schools, three hundred for repairs, supplies and insurance, and three hundred for text books.

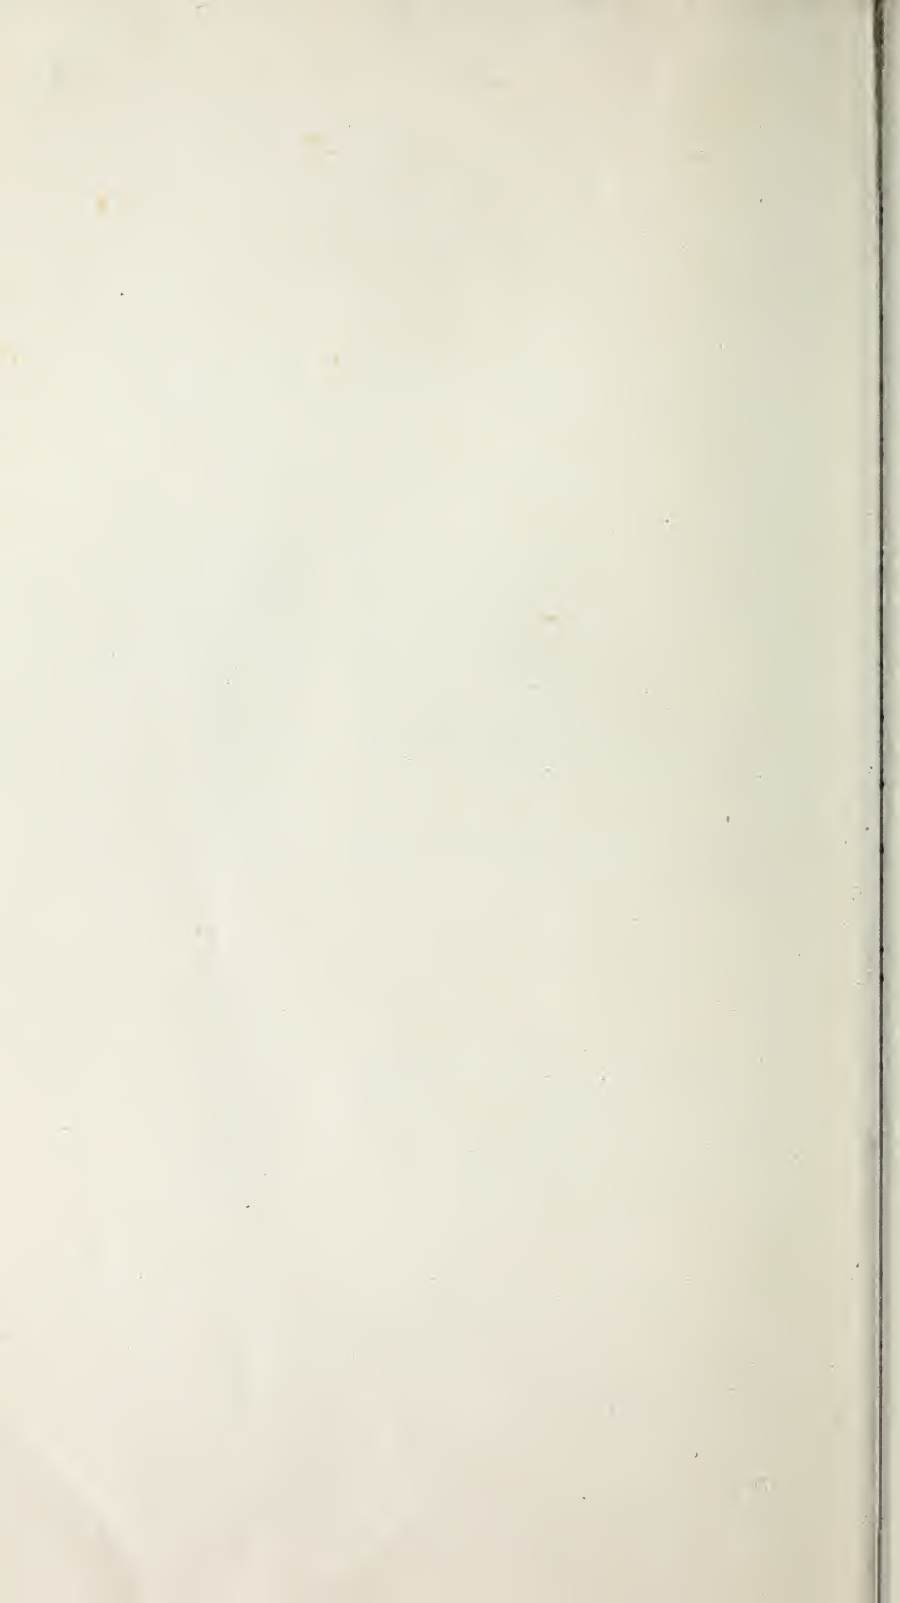

GEO. B. CARLL,
Superintendent.

General Remarks.

At the beginning of the last municipal year the selectmen were astonished at the large number of bills which they were called upon to settle which had been approved by the former board and carried over, and later presented to us for payment. In the early part of the spring the new draw bridge and approach seemed to be the great centre of attraction. The bridge came some time in March and was opened for public travel Monday morning, April 19th, 1897. At this time the two towns interested in the bridge could not agree in a settlement and April 20th we sent to the Groten Bridge Manufacturing company $1500, on account. Later, Kennebunk made a payment to the bridge company, and the matter remained unsettled, for it did not seem right to us for our town to pay more than half the cost of the bridge, Kennebunk claiming only to be responsible for about 11-40 of the bridge, and referred us to the printed agreement in our last year's town report, page 67. In this case (and in other questions of importance) we have secured advice from attorneys who stand high in their profession and have had experience in such matters. After looking well into the bridge affair, our counsel told us the above referred-to article of agreement between the two towns last year would be hard to get over, and about the only thing for us to do would be to make the best trade we could with the other town, and so the matter remained unsettled until October the first, the president of the Groten Bridge and Manufacturing company came to Kennebunk and Kennebunkport, and a meeting of the two boards was arranged and a settlement agreed upon, namely: we to give a check to the bridge company for payment in full, $1,404.43, and Kennebunk to pay us back on bridge account, $425.00. Before the bridge was opened to the public we were notified by the Hardy Machine company that they had a contract signed by the selectmen Saturday, Feb. 27th, 1897, for the iron railing, and they were then making it.

Later in the spring we found that our selectmen had, February 23d, agreed with E. H. Fifield for a concrete walk from Brown's block to the bridge and in front of R. W. Norton's, and a chemical company in New York was secured on the job for material furnished to Fifield.

Thus we acknowledge both the iron railing and the concrete walk to be children of the old board; and all we had to do was to pay the bills, both of which cost nearly two hundred dollars each.

Of the thirty-six hundred dollars in reserve for the completion of the bridge, thirty-five hundred has been negotiated, leaving one hundred balance unexpended. The gravel which was brought here on the cars for the bridge did not prove satisfactory and had to be removed, and quite an additional expense incurred by building a solid road, the rotten rock being taken from the top of Perkins' hill, thus helping the hill and giving us material for the road at cost of getting out.

It will be seen by the report only $500 was raised at the annual meeting for bridges. The great freshet in June washed the Union street bridge into the dock and carried away the bridge known as Perkins' bridge.

The selectmen had a new bridge built of granite on Union street with a large water course running through it. This bridge cost one thousand dollars and a note given to Mr. Howe, payable next August at 5 per cent. interest. The town must make some provision for the above note at the annual meeting. Our side of the Perkins' bridge was thoroughly built over, twenty-five yards of stone being hauled from the quarry of George W. Ross for the above purpose, the work being done in June. At the same time numerous small bridges and causeways were washed out, besides damaging the roads to a great extent, so it will be impossible to estimate correctly the amount of damage done by this storm.

The roads, especially in districts 8, 9 and 24, are very rocky and this locality has been greatly improved by blasting out some of the worst places. In order to help the good work along, Mr. Thomas A. Emmons, who is interested in good roads, offered to have a large flat ledge removed at his expense. This generous offer was accepted, and cost the gentleman about $32.00. Attention is called to the ditch which was blasted out of the solid rock from top to bottom of Wakefield's hill in the Wildes district and was done in order to take the water from the roadway, and save the severe washings which the hill always had every heavy rain. This job was worked out on the selectmen's list.

During the early part of the summer the county commissioners were petitioned by Frederick T. Hill of Lyman and others to appoint an agent to construct the road as located by them through the northerly portion of Kennebunkport and Biddeford, the time having elapsed in which the towns were given to build it. As it would be an expensive road to build and to maintain, and there being no one in our town and but few in Biddeford desiring it, the two towns united in opposing its construction.

Petitions were made to the county commissioners by both towns for a discontinuance of the road and a hearing held at the municipal court room in Biddeford, Dec. 14th and 15th, when an adjournment was made until such times as the commissioners should decide on, and the hearing continued and their decision announced.

The poor at the farm has been cared for as for several years past by Mrs. Juliette Williams. No change in the inmates except once or twice a sick tramp was taken there, and a few weeks ago Caleb Moody was taken to the farm. The first part of the season those outside which received assistance was confined to Jos. Manuel's family, the Smith family and Jacob Curtis, but as the winter came on others applied for help as will be seen by reading the leaf under the heading "Poor away from farm." Joseph Manuel died last fall. The funeral expenses being provided for by Mr. and Mrs. Willis, who have since taken Mrs. Manuel to their home to spend her last days, without expense to our town. The family of Sylvester Furbush was found to be destitute; his wife sick and in a feeble condition. Medicine, food, clothing, bedding and fuel was sent to them, also medical attendance. The woman died and left a young child. This family is a resident of Kennebunk and the bills have been charged to that town.

The claim of Jane L. Stone against the C. L. Stone estate is in the hands of her guardian, Mr. Woodbury Smith.

It will be remembered by many while the great struggle for water was being carried on in 1896, at one of the town meetings a long list of names was read of those who owned real estate in the village and would be willing to have the value of their property raised not to exceed twenty per cent. and many who had opposed the tax said if the village people were willing to do that to help pay the extra water tax they would go in for it, and the result was a vote in favor of water.

This seemed to the assessors like a fair agreement with those who opposed the water and those who were in favor of it, consequently the real estate that is near the water pipes and hydrants has been raised in value ten per cent. and many who have talked with us about the rise said they would be willing to stand the rise if there were any hose so the hydrants could be used in case of fire, but the insurance rates have not been reduced yet because the town does not own a sufficient number of feet of hose as required by the insurance companies. Last summer, through the efforts of Mr. Abbott Graves and Mr. Lorin F. Deland, both summer residents, three hundred feet of hose and a new hose carriage were presented to the Arundel Engine Company in behalf of the town.

There is an important article in the warrant to see if the town will give seven hundred feet more of hose which is necessary to have in case of a great fire.

There is a bill out of attorneys' fees 1896-7 and 1897-8 in the village bridge matter.

A bill for hydrant rentals came in about the time the books were closed which we did not settle, as the treasurer did not have the funds at his command. Sheriff J. F. Goldthwaite served a writ on the town in favor of Charles E. Bryant; bill for ferrying 1896, three days, $37.00 and credit by cash paid May 22nd 1896, $10.00, Bryant claiming there is a balance on account due him of $27.00. This case is called up late in February.

In the above remarks we have endeavored to inform the inhabitants of the town of the exact facts. Had circumstances been different we could have made a better financial showing, however, we have the satisfaction of being able to prepare an easier way for our successors.
